Integrating with a variety of enterprise toolsets, SmartView allows organisations to easily view, sort and manage their threat vulnerability data, whilst also acting as a secure communications portal for sharing confidential or sensitive information, such as security test results.

Our intelligent dashboard shows your vulnerabilities, clearly and concisely, along with advice for their remediation. To improve efficiency, SmartView allows you to filter data so that you only see what's relevant for you, whether that's threats with a specific severity level, vulnerabilities related to a specific asset type, or other criteria.

Smarter Cyber Security

Security teams have never had it so tough. Threat actors are more determined. Vulnerabilities are more prevalent. Resources are more stretched. This means it is more important than ever to have all your security data in one, easily accessible place. Triaging and prioritisation of workloads should be simple and efficient. SmartView from Cognisys is the answer to this problem.

Improved Visibility

SmartView is a MFA controlled environment as standard, providing safe access to all your security engagement information.

Additional controls, such as automatic self-deletion, ensures that your highly sensitive information remains tightly controlled and only available to you and your team, as you need it
